- (e) has been commingled with other property that cannot be divided without difficulty,

- (a) a Court has made an order of forfeiture under this section; and,

- (b) the conviction of the person in relation to whom the order was made is set aside, the order of forfeiture shall cease to have effect and a person who claims to have an interest in any property in respect of which the order was made may apply to the Court for an order declaring the nature, extent and value of the claimant's interest; and,

(10) A person who makes an application under subsection (5) or subsection (6) shall give notice to the competent authority and the competent authority shall be a party to a proceeding on the application.

(11) Where an application has been made under subsection (1), the Court may, for the purpose of tracing of the property or preventing the circumventing of an order of forfeiture which the Court may make under this section, make such order or give such direction as the Court thinks necessary and may in particular make-

- (a) a prohibition order against any registration under the Deeds Registry Act, 1968, or a restraining order;
- (b) a production order; or,
- (c) an order that any property be transferred to a named person to be held by the person pending the determination of the application.

(12) For the purpose of an order of forfeiture under this section, it shall be presumed that any money or property which appears-

- (b) to have been transferred to or by, or deposited with or by, the person convicted at any time after that person committed an offence and before the Court makes an order under subsection (1),

(2) The Court shall assess the value of the benefits derived by a person from the commission of an unlawful activity or offence in accordance with sections 64, 65, 66 and 67.

(3) The Court shall not make a pecuniary penalty order under this section-

- (a) until the period allowed by the rules of court for the lodging of an appeal against conviction has expired without such appeal having been lodged; or,
- (b) where an appeal against conviction has been lodged, until the appeal lapses in accordance with the rules of court or is finally determined, whichever is the later date.

64. (1) Where a person obtains property as the result of, or in connection with the commission of an unlawful activity or offence, his or her benefit is the value of the property so obtained.

(2) Where a person derives a reward or advantage as a result of or in connection with the commission of an unlawful activity or offence, his or her reward or advantage shall be deemed to be a sum of money equal to the value of the reward or advantage so derived.

(3) The Court, in determining whether a person has benefited from the commission of an unlawful activity or offence or from that offence taken together with other offences shall, unless the contrary is proved, deem-

- (a) all property appearing to the Court to be held by that person on the day on which the application is made or at any time-
 - (i) within the period between the day the unlawful activity or offence, or the earliest unlawful activity or offence was committed and the day on which the application is made; or,

(4) Where a pecuniary penalty order has been previously made against a person, in assessing the value of any benefit derived by him or her from the commission of the unlawful activity or offence, the Court shall leave out of account any benefits that are shown to the Court to have been taken into account in determining the amount to be recovered under that order.

(5) If evidence is given at the hearing of the application that the value of the person's property at any time after the commission of the unlawful activity or offence exceeded the value of the person's property before the commission of the unlawful activity or offence, then the Court shall, subject to subsection (6) treat the value of the benefit as being not less than the amount of that excess.

(6) If, after evidence of the kind referred to in subsection (5) is given, the person satisfies the Court that the whole or part of the excess was due to causes unrelated to the commission of the unlawful activity or offence, subsection (5) does not apply to the excess or, as the case may be, that part.

65. (1) Where-

- (a) a person has been convicted of an unlawful activity or offence and the competent authority tenders to the Court a statement as to any matters relevant to-

- (b) the Court is satisfied that a copy of that statement has been served on the person;

the Court may require the person to indicate to what extent he or she accepts each allegation in the statement and, so far as the person does not accept any allegation, to indicate any matters he or she proposes to reply on.

(3) Where the person fails in any respect to comply with a requirement under subsection (2), that person may be treated for the purposes of this section as having accepted every allegation in the statement other than-

- (a) an allegation in respect of which that person complied with the requirement; and,
- (b) an allegation that that person has benefited from the unlawful activity or offence or that any property or advantage was obtained by him or her as a result of or in connection with the commission of the unlawful activity or offence.

(4) Where-

- (b) the competent authority accepts to any extent any allegation in the statement, the Court may, for the purposes of that determination, treat the acceptance of the competent authority as conclusive of the matters to which it relates.

(5) An allegation may be accepted or a matter indicated for the purposes of this section, either-

- (a) orally before the Court; or,
- (b) in writing, in accordance with Rules of court.

(2) Where the Court is satisfied as to any matter relevant for determining the amount which might be realized at the time the pecuniary penalty order is made (whether by acceptance under section 65 or otherwise), the Court may issue a certificate giving the opinion of the Court as to the matters concerned, and shall do so if satisfied that the amount that might be realized at the time the pecuniary penalty order is made is less than the amount that the Court assesses to be the value of the person's benefit from the offence, or if more than one, all the offences in respect of which the pecuniary penalty order may be made.

Variation of Pecuniary Penalty Order

67. Where-

- (a) the Court makes a pecuniary penalty order against a person in relation to an unlawful activity or offence,
- (b) in calculating the amount of the pecuniary penalty order, the Court took into account a forfeiture order of the property or a proposed forfeiture order in respect of property; and,
- (c) an appeal against forfeiture or a forfeiture order is allowed, or the proceedings from the proposed forfeiture order terminate without the proposed forfeiture order being made,

- (b) any right, power or privilege in connection with the property.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of subsection (1), the Court may have regard to-

- (a) shareholdings in, debentures over or directorships in any company that has an interest, whether direct or indirect, in the property, and for this purpose the Court may order the investigation and inspection of the books of a named company;
- (b) any trust that has any relationship to the property; or,
- (c) any relationship whatsoever between the persons having an interest in the property or in companies of the kind referred to in subsection (a) or trust of the kind referred to in subsection (b), and any other persons.

(3) Where the Court, for the purposes of making a pecuniary penalty order against a person, treats particular property as the person's property pursuant to subsection

(1), the Court may, on application by the competent authority make an order declaring that the property is available to satisfy the order.

(4) Where the Court declares that property is available to satisfy a pecuniary penalty order-

- (a) the order may be enforced against the property as if the property were the property of the person against whom the order is made; and,
- (b) a restraining order may be made in respect of the property as if the property were property of the person against whom the order is made.

(5) Where the competent authority makes an application for an order under subsection (3) that property is available to satisfy a pecuniary penalty order against a person-

- (a) the competent authority shall give written notice of the application to the person and to any person who the competent authority has reason to believe may have an interest in the property; and,
- (b) the person and any person who claims an interest in the property may appear and produce evidence at the hearing.
